

Emma Jones: yes

00:49:23 Sarah: Just to say Sligo PPN happy to support groups with these communication efforts such as social media approaches, local community consultations etc

00:55:27 Maire Paul: Not to sure though how it is disposed of. I've actually spotted it going into the general waste lorry. When I called the company to check it out they just ignored it!

01:22:45 Sarah: Car idling came us a lot in our climate conversations - definitely a need for a campaign around this. Schools were highlighted as a particularly bad spot

01:28:00 May Burns: All new cars now automatically switch off engine when not in gear & foot is taken off clutch

01:33:42 Sarah: How Bad Are Bananas? The Carbon Footprint of Everything

Book by Mike Berners-Lee

01:38:50 Sarah: The PPN has all information on business and community groups that engaged with deliveries to vulnerable and other support so get in touch to find out who was registered in your local area.

01:42:36 Maire Paul: Thank you - very thoughtful ideas there for sharing. RPPN

01:43:36 Sarah: We would love to explore how all the individual actions of the groups could be mapped interactively so that we have a county wide overview of all the individual activities of TT groups and look how we can share ideas / templates across all the groups.

01:51:24 Michael Breen: Sharon. Is there any timeframe yet as to when the Tidy Towns competition will be launched and entry forms to be submitted?

01:54:47 Emma Jones: thank you
